H. Sears to a Class Reunion in Oklahoma

Howard Sears, 3635 West 77th Avenue, returned Monday morning from an enjoyable holiday trip to attend the High School alumni banquet at Shattuck, Okla. The banquet is an annual affair held the first Saturday after Christmas and Mr. Sears had never been able to get away to attend the event before. There were 12 graduates there from his 1914 graduating class of 44 years ago from all over the U. S.

Mr. Sears left Christmas day for Shattuck and stayed in the town's one hotel which was owned by a former graduate. He was among those attending from the farthest distance, over 500 miles, and by coincidence sat across the table from two other couples from Denver who had graduated some years after Mr. Sears had moved away from Shattuck. Howard also went quail hunting while there, something he hadn't done since he was a boy.

Pedestrians are advised by the State Patrol to walk where motorists expect them to be—on sidewalks, in crosswalks, or on the left side of the road facing traffic. Stay alive tonight . . . Be alive tomorrow.

One of SWAC Fire Trucks Is Wrecked on Perl-Mack Run

In a near-tragic accident resulting from a false alarm fire call on Christmas eve, a SWAC fire truck overturned and was almost completely demolished.

Driving the big rig, carrying 700 gallons of water, was Assistant Chief Fred Vecchiarelli, 53, of 6335 Tennyson St. He was rushed to St. Anthony's hospital, but was released within an hour after treatment for minor bruises and cuts.

The accident occurred on 70th Avenue in front of the Sundstrand plant, as the truck was making a run to Miller's Supermarket in the Perl-Mack Shopping Center. The call was a false alarm, phoned by a nearby resident who saw vapor issuing from a ventilator at the south end of the building.

Other firemen and passersby stopped to give assistance at the accident while a following Southwest truck, driven by Captain J. Wray Taylor with Lieutenant Henry Dickinson aboard, radioed for police and ambulance while continuing on to the fire.

A crew worked for ten minutes extricating Vecchiarelli from the cab of the truck, which came to rest upside down. The loss was covered by insurance.

George Ditolla, president of the Southwest Adams County Fire District board, assures residents of the area that they will continue to have full fire protection.

The department has another pumper in service, and has on order a big new 1000-gallon pumper. Factory work on this apparatus has been stepped up as the result of the accident, and delivery on it has been promised in three weeks.

Meanwhile, Southwest has been loaned an old piece of forestry equipment by Western Fire Equipment Co. This carries 350 gallons of water under high pressure. An ungainly but powerful rig, it performed to the satisfaction of firemen at a fire Sunday morning at 5655 Tennyson st., when a mattress in an upstairs bedroom caught fire. Damage was confined to the bed itself.

To call the Southwest Adams department, phone ATlas 8-5555 and report address and nature of fire to the radio dispatcher.

The course will deal with the place of the classroom teacher in guidance.

A baby girl was born Tuesday, December 16th to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis of 6820 Avrum Drive. Kathryn Sue Davis arrived at the Rocky Mountain Hospital weighing 6 lbs., 8 oz. She has a brother, Danny Dee, who is 2½ years old.

Denver Council Approves 48th Ave. Freeway

The Denver City Council voted Monday night to make an agreement with the State Highway Commission for the W. 48th Avenue freeway. The vote was 7-2 in favor of the proposal.

The matter has been under consideration for sometime, and those who opposed the 48th Avenue route have favored 52nd or 54th Avenues. However, Adams County Commissioners Del Cimyott, E. G. Waymire and Wm. Eppinger stood pat in insisting that the only route they would approve in the county would be in the vicinity of W. 66th Avenue, which follows the general terrain of Clear Creek. The State Highway Department had earlier notified the Denver council that any lack of action at this time on the 48th Avenue route would mean they preferred the highway to follow the 66th Avenue plan.

Attorneys representing the North Denver Civic Association have stated they plan to file suit shortly after the first of the year to stop construction of the 48th Avenue freeway. A consideration in the entire matter is the widening and general improvement of E. 46th Avenue, which has become one of Denver's worst traffic problems.

Council Approves Action to Enlarge Water Filter Plant

The low bid of the Hensel Phelps Construction Company in the amount of $111,829.00 was accepted by council at its last meeting for enlargement of the Westminster water treatment plant. The increase in size of the plant by addition of two complete filtering units will about double its capacity, and should assure a better and more adequate supply of water during the peak demand next summer.

The low bid was accepted upon recommendation of Mr. Phillips of the engineering firm of Phillips-Carter & Osborne. Mayor Don Nelson and City Clerk Katheryn Herman were authorized to enter into a contract with the construction company for the filter plant addition.

Mr. Freed, attorney representing the Vic Construction Company, presented a letter to the council in which they outlined the type of houses which will be constructed in the Rosewood addition. The letter was placed on file pending completion and approval of the proposed annexation.

Methodist Church Cornerstone to Be Laid Sunday

Special services will be held this Sunday, January 4, at the Westminster Methodist Church when the cornerstone of the new church building at West 76th Ave. and King Street will be laid. The special ceremony will take place at 12:15 p.m., immediately following the second morning worship service. The Rev. T. Bruce McDivitt, district superintendent of the Methodist Church for the Denver District, will preside. Rev. McDivitt will also preach at both morning worship services.

The new church building, which is scheduled for completion by Easter, will supply far more adequate space for the congregation, and is the first of three units to be built on the site. The cornerstone is the gift of the Methodist Men's Club of the church.

Huge No-Joint Pipe Being Installed By a Special Machine for Perl-Mack

The first 72-inch no-joint pipe placed in the world has been installed at the Perl-Mack Shopping Center (at 72nd and Pecos) east of Westminster.

The Latimer Construction Co., placed the concrete storm sewer to serve the growing shopping center area which will soon include a new Busley's supermarket.

The first 72-inch no-joint pipe placed in the world to use the new first in the world to use the new 72 - inch machine. Engineer for the project was Jim Larsh, who also does engineering for the City of Westminster.

Cliff Latimer of the construction company said 1,000 feet of pipe were placed at a cost of about $30 a foot complete. The large pipe was placed with a novel slip-form machine which moves along a ditch, leaving a sturdy concrete storm sewer in its wake.

Citizens Committee Considering Site for a Municipal Building

The December meeting of the Westminster Citizens Advisory Committee, was held last Tuesday evening at the High School. About 20 members attended. Due to the resignation of Mrs. Wayne Fox, secretary, the assistant secretary, Mrs. Fred Mendenhall was nominated to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Sidney Kissel was nominated to serve as assistant secretary.

City Manager Philip Roan gave a report to the group on several matters of interest. A site for the municipal building is one of the most important factors for the Municipal Building committee to consider. The storm sewer program is progressing nicely.

Members of the Fire and Police committee were invited to visit the City Hall and inspect the new communication system that has been installed recently. The Water Committee was asked to attend Council meeting and hear the new water report, prepared by the city engineers, Philips, Carter and Osborn. Mr. Roan asked the publicity committee to help him in sending out a report to all city dwellers, telling them of the progress the city has made in the past year.

Jim Hague, chairman of the municipal improvement committee, gave a report on the findings of his committee. They had been investigating lease systems, and considering existing buildings, but none large enough are available in this area.

After a discussion on the merits and objectives of the Citizens Advisory Committee, the meeting adjourned. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 6th, at 8:00 at the High School. All members who wish to continue with their membership in the Committee should attend this meeting, as new rules concerning membership were adopted at the December meeting. The membership committee will contact every member prior to the January meeting to ascertain whether or not each member wishes to maintain his membership.

Here's Howe

By M. C. H.

At this rush season of the year there's little point in writing anything but best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year! Many things have been accomplished in this area during 1958, including the construction of several new churches, new school buildings, many new homes, street improvements, new business places, more recreation facilities, and other improvements too numerous to list. These are all on the credit side of the ledger. However, there are some problems which were not solved in a rapidly growing area, and some of the problems will continue as long as the area continues to grow and expand.

ers who have devoted many hours of their personal time to the betterment of the community, and along with it have received their share of criticism, deserve a vote of thanks from all of us. The list of accomplishments outweighs the list of things that didn't get done, and in 1959 these public spirited citizens will continue to work for the best interests of most citizens. Some with individual problems and selfish interests will never be satisfied with the actions taken by any public group. Meanwhile, in the coming year there will be progress, which is sometimes painfully slow, and then again moves forward rapidly to the satisfaction of all concerned. The coming year will be another of varied and numerous activities.

All community and civic lead-

Several suburban editors, including this writer, along with Bill Long, manager of the Colorado Press Association, spent all Saturday afternoon until early evening judging the Arizona newspapers entered in annual competition prior to their convention. Arizona has some 40 papers, which is small by comparison with many states, but what they lack in quantity they make up in quality. All of us learned things we could do to improve our own papers if we can only find the time to make these improvements.

In the small newspaper field it is interesting to note that the number of weekly newspapers continues to decrease while circulation continues to increase. A report in the Nebraska Press bulletin said there were 260 newspapers in the state at the end of 1958. A year ago there were 264. In 1913 the total was 725 which by 1950 had shrunk to 312. During this transition the smaller papers were absorbed by the larger neighboring weeklies, which today have a combined circulation of 314,883! The same story holds true in Colorado, even though we don't have the 1958 report as yet. The Journal has made a healthy growth in the past few years, and as the new year starts we plan a continued program of improvement.

We hope you've noticed, but in case you missed it, we're mighty proud of our new nameplate on the front page this week. The flag was designed by John McClure, a Denver commercial artist, who lives at 7850 Raleigh St. We feel that the new nameplate is more modern and realistic than the one which has been standard for so many years. Here's hoping you like it.

Be sure and let us know your change of address in advance of any move, or for a temporary change of address. Every paper that is not delivered under our Second Class permit costs us 5 cents when it is sent back by the Post Office. Your cooperation in keeping addresses up to date will be greatly appreciated.

That's all for this time—and once again we wish each and every one the very best for the coming New Year!

Westminster Library News

Appropriately enough, the shipment of books arriving this week are juvenile. The gaily illustrated big books for the very small fry go to almost empty spaces, the demand of late has been so grate for them. Then there are Lucky Starr books for the fans of that hero. A late book by popular Grace Kisinger is here, "The New Lucinda." Some new mystery stories for the younger fans. And this and that of other popular interest. The Library will be open through the holidays except for New Year's Eve and New Year's Day.

Jr. Red Cross Booklet Tells State History

A Junior Red Cross booklet telling the history of Colorado was released for sale to the public this week, officials of the Colorado Centennial Commission announced Wednesday.

"Colorado, the Centennial State," was written by a group of Denver teenagers as their contribution to the 1959 "Rush to the Rockies" Centennial celebration.

The book details wild life resources, the various cultures, industries, sports, entertainment and festival attractions which are of importance to the 100 year growth and present fame of Colorado. In addition the book contains thumbnail sketches of many Coloradans important to the development of Colorado during the past century.

Unusual woodcut designs, numbering more than 46, illustrate the 40-page booklet.

According to Mrs. Walter W. Garnsey, who is in charge of the student's Centennial project, the young people worked for eight months to complete the book. The Centennial year edition is a revision of a similar book published by Denver's Junior Red Cross ten years ago.

"Colorado" focuses particular attention on next year's "Rush to the Rockies" celebration which honors the remarkable 100 year growth of the state since the initial "Rush to the Rockies" in 1859. State-wide distribution of the booklet is currently being arranged, Mrs. Garnsey said. The book presently is available by writing directly to Mrs. C. R. McCotter, 101 Gilpin Street, Denver, or the individual members of the Colorado Centennial Commission throughout Colorado. The book sells for 50c.

A major portion of the book emphasizes the "playland" attractions of Colorado. Also included is a chapter dealing with the Colorado "firsts" which have reached national or international fame. Included are the invention of the ice cream soda by Baur's of Denver; the origination of "flowers by wire," and the design for the first Kewpie doll. The popular doll was invented by Rose O'Neill of Durango, Colorado.

A feature of the book is a large map of Colorado illustrated with water color designs of important attractions found in each area of the state. The drawing was designed by Gerald Herndon, a Junior at North High School.

The students which devoted most of their summer holiday to the project attend East and North High School. Edward Marecak, supervisor of the Denver Public Schools' summer art program, was in charge of the group designing the unusual woodcuts. Dudley Enos, a teacher at East High, was in charge of the overall project with Mrs. Garnsey. Smith-Brooks Printing Company of Denver is publisher.

Scheme to "Buy a Bond and Get Rich Quick" Is Ruled Illegal

A scheme to "buy a bond and get rich quick" is not legal, according to the Thursday issue of The Brighton Blade. The chain letter type of operation apparently started in the Sidney, Neb. area and then moved into the communities of Brighton and Ft. Lupton in Adams county. According to local officials, there has been no evidence to date of such an illegal operation in the Westminster area.

The Brighton Post Office cited a special bulletin dated Dec. 1,

Peterson Will Head County Fair & Rodeo

Norris "Pete" Peterson was elected president of the Adams County Fair & Rodeo association to succeed Carmon Jesiop in that capacity for the coming year. The election took place Monday evening at a meeting of the members held in the county extension office.

Carl (Fritz) Ehrlich was elected vice president, Al Ling Jr., secretary, and Hi Hitner, treasurer.

Directors elected to the three year term are Ehrlich, Hitner, Fred DeBetz, Sam Schwartz, Leonard Bowlby, Ralph Bergman, and Carl Stolz. Two directors were elected to fill one-year terms, namely Bob Bergman and Young Gamblin. There are 21 directors on the board.

Dates were set for the Adams County Horse Show, to be July 11-12, and the fair and rodeo to be on Aug. 5-9. The board plans to tie in to the "Rush to the Rockies" with their event.

The board reports that they had a good year last year and came out in the black. Additional parking space is being planned for the present time.—Brighton Blade.

1957, which states: "It makes no difference whether the lists of participants are circulated through the mails or pass from hand to hand; as long as the money, bonds or receipts are mailed, the scheme is illegal. . . Those who participate in such activities may be subject to criminal prosecution."

The pitch being made by sellers of the "buy a bond" list is a simple one. You purchase a list of 11 names, with an $18.75 bond on it. You then send the bond to the person it's made out to, take the top name off the list and add yours to the bottom, said The Blade.

The list cost you $37.50 to purchase and you invest another $37.50 to buy two bonds for the name which you took off the top of the list. You then take the two bonds which you've purchased, make two lists, adding your name to the bottom, and sell them for $37.50 each.

If you sell both of your lists, your only investment is four cents, which you spent purchasing a stamp to send the bond you received with the list you purchased. For this small investment, backers of the plan say, you stand to get $51,200 in bonds.

Statistics worked out some years back by the Cleveland Plain Dealer when the scheme was working in Ohio point out that in order for you to receive the 2,048 bonds needed to give you the $51,200 return, 4,194,304 persons would have to buy into the scheme.

In last week's Journal, it was stated that Danny Bonker was home for Christmas leave. This should have read Donny Bonker, as his brother Danny did not get home for Christmas this year. Donny is a Yeoman second class, stationed at Sabine, Texas, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lumsden.

Slow Freights Dangerous to Some Drivers

Believe it or not, but slow moving freight trains can be more of a danger to some motorists at grade crossings than high speed passenger trains, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club contended today.

"A few motorists try to beat trains to the crossing," club officials said, "either because they like a thrilling race or because they think they will have to wait too long for the train to pass. The slower the train or the more cars in a freight, the more likely the eager driver will try to beat it," they added.

The auto club issued this caution in reference to the recent request of two Denver suburbs for reduced train speeds in congested areas.

"If the communities succeed in getting the trains slowed down from the present 45 miles per hour speed limit for freights — the false security of the slower speed and the worry of being blocked for longer periods at crossings may increase the number of 'suicide attempts' by eager motorists," club officials warned.

Most local freights, the club pointed out, contain less than 100 cars and take less than two minutes to clear crossings at 45 miles per hour — hardly worth anyone's risking his life for."

We appreciate your help the past year and hope to serve you again and again in 1959.

22,000 to Make Address Report

District Director John T. Clingan of the Immigration and Naturalization Service estimated today that 22,000 aliens will report their addresses in the States of Colorado and Wyoming during January under the Federal Alien Address Report Program.

The Immigration official said that 21,338 aliens reported their address in those two States during January 1958.

Mr. Clingan said that all non-citizens, except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives of certain international organizations and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers, are required to file the address report.

He added that any alien who willfully violates the address report requirement may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

In addition, aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their address to the Service within 10 days after their return.

Mr. Clingan said that address report cards will be available at the Immigration Service office at Room 413 Post Office Building, Denver, Colorado, and local United States Post Offices beginning Jan. 1, 1959.

Four Counties Transferred to State Examiners

The Rocky Mountain AAA Club this week hailed a 3-county transfer of driver licensing from county to state examiners on Jan. 1 as a major step forward in highway safety.

Counties voluntarily giving up the testing function at the beginning of the year include Weld, El Paso and Rio Blanco. The examining of drivers in Adams county was taken over by the state Dec. 1. State motor vehicle examiners will now do the testing in 25 of the 63 counties in the state. Other counties are expected to follow suit within the next few months.

Until recently, explained the auto club, county officials have been reluctant to give up driver licensing, partly because they wanted to retain licensing revenue and partly because of patronage reasons. Counties that do their own testing get $1.50 of the $2 license fee. County driver examiners are usually political appointees.

With the capitulation of three of the state's most populous counties—El Paso, Weld and Adams, the state will now be testing about 54 percent of all Colorado drivers. The AAA club called the Jan. 1 transfers a "major breakthrough the county clerk barrier."

The auto club expressed hope that all other Colorado counties would jump onto the bandwagon. State examinations are generally far more thorough than those of county examiners, pointed out the AAA, which added that under the county setup some drivers were given no tests at all.

The AAA said that it was necessary for all Colorado drivers to face a uniform, state-given examination in order to stop what is called the "bootlegging" of drivers licenses. This is the practice of going across a county line to take the examination where it is felt the test will be less severe. Some Denver drivers have for years been giving fake addresses in the surrounding tri-county area, commented the AAA.

Now that Adams county licensing has been taken over by the state a new "bootlegging" has appeared. State examiners report that some Adams county residents of Aurora, fearful of the state-given examinations, are

"EVILS STILL WORSE HAVE WE KNOWN"

Each new year begins with a goal we hope to accomplish before its end. All members of the health team, research scientists, physicians, pharmacists, dentists, nurses and chemists are united in a great effort to cure and prevent every disease.

We still have much to accomplish, but the past few years have enabled us to overcome many evils. No longer do we fear Malaria, pneumonia, mastoids, venereal diseases, infections from child-birth or surgical operations. We now have specific drugs physicians prescribe that can be depended upon. Even the few remaining diseases, for which we still have no known cure, can be lived with if their diagnosis is early.

Jeffco Airport Now Being Planned For a Location Near Broomfield

Plans for a $1-million Jefferson county airport to be constructed in the extreme northwest corner of the county, about one mile southwest of Broomfield Heights, was announced last Wednesday, according to The Arvada Enterprise.

Announcement was made in a progress report for the airport made by the executive committee of Industries for Jefferson County, Inc., after appraisal of final recommendations from that group's airport development committee.

A proposal for a similar airport installation at West Eighth avenue and Wadsworth boulevard was dropped by the county this summer after residents and officials of Arvada and Westminister violently protested the location. At this time, a location further north of Arvada was suggested for the site.

At a recent meeting of the Board of directors of Public Service Company of Colorado, John E. Loiseau announced his retirement as president, effective January 1, 1959.

In the same meeting the directors elected Loiseau Chairman of the Board and elected Robert T. Person to succeed Loiseau as president. Both men are to assume their new positions January 1.

The board also expanded the duties of William D. Virtue, presently Executive Vice President to the new position of Executive Vice President in charge of Company Operations. Virtue will continue to serve as treasurer and principal financial officer of the Company.

Walter W. Howell, assistant vice president, was advanced to the position of vice president and principal accounting officer to succeed Mr. Virtue in that capacity.

Aggie Roundup Is January 17

Colorado State University alumni from many points in Colorado and adjoining states, convene in Denver on Saturday, Jan. 17, for the 21st annual Aggie Roundup to be held in the American Legion Building at 14th Avenue and Broadway.

Program Chairman Richard M. Bruce, Class of 1950 and now a Denver real estate man, said plans are now underway to make this year's event the "biggest in history."

"We have a wonderful program set up," Bruce said, "including dinner and dancing. This will be the social event of the season for old grads to get together."

The festivities will begin at 6 p.m. Admission tickets, $3.50 for all events, are being sold by members of the Denver Metro Aggie Alumni Association or may be ordered by mail from the Alumni Association office in Fort Collins.

NOTICE

In keeping with the municipal policy of attempting to completely inform the residents of our city concerning matters of local interest this notice is published. There will be a series of informational meetings held on January 6, 8, 9 at various locations throughout the city. The meetings will be for the purpose of distributing any and all information available concerning the proposed storm sewer district.

The reason for three meetings in various locations is to afford all interested residents an opportunity to attend one of the meetings. Your City Council feels this matter is of sufficient importance to warrant as wide a distribution of information as possible.

These informational sessions do not take the place of the legally required public hearing concerning the proposed storm sewers. There will be no remonstrance petitions accepted at the informational meetings and no action taken other than to make information available and to answer questions.

The schedule of meetings and the location of them follows:

January 6th Westminister Hills School. 7:30 P.M.
January 8th Westminister High School. 7:30 P.M.
January 9th Skyline Vista School. 7:30 P.M.

The storm sewer district will affect the residents in the area bounded by Zuni Street on the east, The Colorado and Southern Railway right-of-way on the west, The Denver-Boulder Turnpike on the north, and the Colorado and Southern Railway right-of-way on the south.

I would urge all affected residents to attempt to attend one of the three meetings and satisfy any questions you may have concerning the proposed storm sewer district.

Commissioners Hear Applicants for New Housing

Adams County Commissioners, Monday, turned down the application of the Valley Hi Development group because of the drainage problem in the area involved. The plat covered 34 acres on which 137 homes were contemplated. It is located between 78th and 80th between Washington and Valley Highway.

It was felt by the commissioners that water from the area would be accelerated by the building of homes, with streets and gutters, and would damage those below the area involved. It is said that the water problem is increased at least 60 per cent where homes are built on an acreage.

The board did approve plats presented by Harrelson subdivision, Carnation Meadows' 3rd filing, Coffeys 1st addition to Derby, the Fabrizio Acres, and the Valley Vista Development Co. agreement for the development of Sherrelwood Estates 1st and 2nd filing.

The Sherrelwood Estate acreage involves 700 acres. The approval given by the commissioners was contingent on a drainage plan being worked out which must be approved by the Adams County surveyor, Bob Sandquist, before building permits will be granted.

Mrs. Fritz Price applied for a liquor license for her store at 7197 N. Federal blvd. The board took the matter under advisement. Thirteen people showed up in favor of the granting. A petition had been signed by 162 in favor. Several other liquor outlets are present in the area.

Tony Gavito, 5755 N. Washington, was granted a change from a 3.2 to a 3-way license. He plans to build two dining room areas adjoining.—Brighton Blade.

New Records on Turnpike Are Set for Fiscal Year

All-time records for both traffic and revenue were set on the six-year-old Denver Turnpike in the fiscal year which closed August 31st, Toll Road Manager H. Rodney Anderson reported this month to Chief Engineer Mark U. Watrous of the Colorado Department of Highways.

Anderson said that a record August put the Turnpike year just closed into the championship category.

"During the 1958 Turnpike year, increases were noted for all classes of vehicle fees," he stated. "But it was the increase in passenger car fares which really put us over for the new record."

"As compared to the previous, record 1957 year, there were 47,483 more auto fares on the Turnpike in fiscal 1958, twenty-two more truck fares and 4,060 more extra axle fares."

And August, 1958, was 19,400 fares and $4,016 better than August, 1957.

Nearly all pedestrians struck down at night are wearing dark clothing, according to the State Patrol. Give drivers a chance to see you by wearing something white.

Totals for the Turnpike's 1958 fiscal year were 2,324,547 fares and $524,833 in earned revenue. These topped 1957 totals by 47,505 fares and $5,162.

In August, 1958, 265,303 vehicle fares returned $60,183. This was 17,451 fares and $2,602 better than the toll road's best previous month, July, 1956.

Helping Dreamers to Dream
Keeps America Strong

In Colorado—nearly $3 million more is needed annually for scholarships, fellowships and loans to promising students.
Throughout our history as a nation—it has been the dreamers of better ways of doing things who have made our lives more worthwhile.

And yet the dreamer of today, if he is to contribute to the betterment of his fellow man, must be an educated dreamer.
Can there possibly be a better reason for strengthening the sources of knowledge—
our Colorado colleges and universities?
Today's higher education crisis is composed of several elements: a salary scale that is driving away from teaching the kind of person best qualified to teach; overcrowded classrooms; and mounting college applications that will double in less than ten years.
Help the Colorado colleges and universities of your choice. Help them plan for stronger, better-paid faculties and for expansion.
Send a check to the Colorado College or University of your choice. The returns will be greater than you think.

Meet Your Neighbor . . .

By Denamae Fox
How in the world does a person write about a writer? Jim Sanbourne is one. I'm not. But here I go to introduce him to you because I think he's a very interesting individual.

James K. Sanbourne was born in Wilcox, Nebraska, November 5, 1906. He must have learned at a pretty early age to adapt himself to new circumstances, for he attended thirteen different grade schools in Nebraska and Iowa. High school was started at Central High in Omaha, and ended with graduation at the State Preparatory School in Boulder, Colo. in 1925.

At the University of Colorado in Boulder Jim majored in journalism. This prepared him to be one of the best educated soda jerks in Casper, Wyoming. That's what he was doing in 1928 when he was offered a banking job back in Boulder. At first he turned down the bank's offer of $75 a month; he made more than that jerking sodas. However, after two or three days of indecision he accepted, bringing to an end his career of conjuring up taste tempting frosty delights. Two years later, in 1930, Jim moved to Denver to become an employee of the Denver National Bank. This was a year after the great depression hit the nation, and he thought he would never work his way back up to the salary he commanded as a soda jerk.

It was at the Denver National that he met his wife, Betty. He literally fell at her feet; she was coming down the steps, and he stumbled and fell going up. They were married in 1931 and moved to 7757 Raleigh Street. A daughter, Peggy, was born to the Sanbourne's. She is now Mrs. Robert G. Martin and is raising her three children to be "Okies".

Jim Sanbourne

Jim was a teller when World War II broke out, and after four years in the National Guard he joined the Navy. While serving aboard a destroyer tender he saw several South Pacific Islands: Manus Island off New Guinea, the Philippines, — it must have been maddening to be restricted to the ship in Pearl Harbor, Okinawa and Sasebo Harbor in Japan. He did get to spend seven weeks in Shanghai before coming home.

When Jim return he resumed his job as teller at the Denver National, becoming advertising manager in 1947.

Before the war Jim joined a study group of the American Institute of Banking and later entered a public speaking contest. He won the local contest in the district and went to the finals in Chicago. This was timely. The Chicago World's Fair was in full swing so he was able to view the festivities when he wasn't participating in nine different contests. Back in Denver he was made chairman of the public speaking group for the A.I.B. which was later called the "Bankers' Club". It was patterned somewhat on the Toastmasters Club, and most of charter members are now bank officers. As a result of this activity Jim was invited to the annual convention at Louisville, Kentucky to give a speech on the successful operation of a public speaking club, and was asked to write a chapter for a public speaking manual developed by the national office of the A.I.B. Following the Kentucky trip he entered another contest in speaking becoming so interested in public relations that he was made chairman of the Public Relations and School Services Committee. This organization sends speakers to schools upon their invitation and conducts tours through banks for interested students.

Jim's interest in writing dates back to the age of five when he wrote a poem. He edited a unit paper for the National Guard and reported for the press school paper in Boulder. He has also written several articles for trade journals and edits the bank's house organ which has much to do with its public relations program. The committee which put on the nation's first banking program on educational TV was headed by Jim. While he was president of the educational television council of Denver, ten of their programs were produced by KRMA-TV.

Back in the 1940's when the Westminster City Council was still called a Board of Trustees, Jim served as a member. He resigned in 1950 after his wife, Betty, died; he then moved to Denver for a couple years.

As I mentioned in last week's article about Peggy Sanbourne, his present wife, they moved back to Westminster in 1953 just a year after their marriage. Jim ran successfully for the charter convention last year, but because there was some question as to whether he had lived here for the preceding five consecutive years, he withdrew. Had he been able to serve, I'm sure the convention would have profited by his participation.

Jim and Peggy say they don't talk shop too much around home. However, since their interests are so similar they are able to be of great help to each other when a particular knotty problem presents itself. I'll bet they drown all their troubles in a sundae-la Sanbourne.

Transportation Aerial Survey In Five Counties

An aerial survey will be made of all the territory to be covered in the five counties concerned with the Denver Metropolitan Area Transportation Study which has been undertaken by the Colorado Department of Highways.

This announcement was made last week by Robert E. Livingston, Planning and Research Engineer for the Department, at a meeting of officials of all the municipalities involved. These included Denver, Aurora, Arvada, Greenwood Village, Commerce Town, Western Hills, Englewood, Golden, Glendale and the Denver Water Board.

The purpose of the study, which will require two years, is to define the capacity of the existing street and highway systems, to determine the volumes of traffic which would use such systems if they were adequate, and to establish the type, location and cost of new facilities which would be required for present traffic and that of the future.

In addition to the municipalities, the counties of Adams, Arapahoe, Jefferson and Douglas are participating in the study.

Ed Marple, of Washington, D. C., member of the research staff of the Bureau of Public Roads and a nationally recognized authority on origin and destination traffic studies, outlined to the group how that phase of the study will be conducted.

He emphasized that the study must be a continuing function and must not be confined to jurisdictional boundaries.

Livingston indicated that work on some phases of the study already is under way.

or scooter law should be repealed.

A preliminary report of studies made during the past year show that 18% of all licensed 14 and 15 year old motor scooter operators have recorded this year. Denver would have had 38,311 accidents.

During the first six months of this year the accident rate for all motor scooter operators was one in 10. Now the rate for 14 and 15 year olds is up to almost one in five.

There can be no question about the necessity of repeal the council said. "We cannot tolerate any legality to the slaughter of our youngsters, and that is what the present law is doing."

A council spokesman said that there has been much controversy over repeal of this law. Those against repeal have stated that the below 16 year old operators have achieved a fine safety record. The figures just don't agree with this stand.

The council offered this comparison: If 18% of Denver drivers were involved in accidents during 1957 there would have been more than twice as many accidents. Last year Denver recorded 17,392 motor vehicle accidents. If the rate would have been the same as 14 and 15 year old motor scooter operators have recorded this year, Denver would have had 38,311 accidents.

During the first six months of this year the accident rate for all motor scooter operators was one in 10. Now the rate for 14 and 15 year olds is up to almost one in five.

There can be no question about the necessity of repeal the council said. "We cannot tolerate any legality to the slaughter of our youngsters, and that is what the present law is doing."

Incorporation of Ridgewood Being Opposed

Another group has been formed to oppose the incorporation of the Lakewood-Wheat Ridge area into the city of Ridgewood.

Latest organization to join the fight against incorporation is the Suburban Government Committee of Lakewood, headed by Kenneth Fenwick, newly elected Democratic representative from Jefferson county.

The new organization will work closely with the Suburban Government of Wheat Ridge, headed by Frank Lancaster.

Members of the two committees have stated that their main opposition to the incorporation is the fact that the costs of the new city would not justify the benefits to be derived by incorporation.

Fenwick has stated that his group will study alternate proposals to incorporation, including a possible metropolitan district for the east end of the county.

James Sweeney, Lakewood attorney, was named secretary of the Lakewood committee. Serving on the executive board are George Robinson, Martin Molholm, Frank Harbel, Jr., Hubert G. Summers, Bob Weir, Ed Northway, Con Becker, Dr. John Bumpus and George H. Lerg. — Arvada Enterprise.

Sub-Office Is Established at Thornton Hall

Adams County clerk-elect Frank Carlson announced this week that a sub-office of the Clerk and Recorder's office will be established in the Thornton city hall.

Carlson said this will mean that Thornton area residents will be able to purchase auto license tags and register to vote at the city hall. Any business relating to real property transactions will still have to be handled in Brighton.

Sub-offices will continue to operate in Westminister and Arvada, Carlson said. However, he said he has not yet decided exactly how these sub-offices will be established. At the present time both offices are operated by private individuals.

At the same time, Carlson announced the appointment of Robert McIlhenny, former director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Colorado Revenue Department, as his assistant chief.

McIlhenny will serve as both deputy clerk and deputy recorder. — Thornton Tribune.
